VANCOUVER, Aug. 31.—(CP)—Six thousand horrified children yesterday watched an aerial trapeze artist plunge 50 feet to a plank platform as he opened his act at the Shrine Circus at the Pacific National Exhibition.

Don Dorsey, billed as "the world's greatest" rushed to hospital with what appeared to be serious back injuries and possibly a broken pelvis.

At first his audience thought it was part of the act when the aerialist, after a few preliminary swings on the high bar, lost his grip and fell.

Eye-witnesses said there was no safety net.

Oil Reported At Redwater

Unofficial reports from Redwater indicate that oil has been found by the Imperial Oil wildcat being drilled in that district, 27 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Grude is reported to have started drilling from the well early today. Drilling was started in that district by Imperial last year on July 27-28.

Last official report from the location indicated that crews were working at a depth of 4140 feet, which indicates that the hole was well into the Devonian formation that produces high grade crude at Leduc.

No Imperial Oil officials could be reached in Edmonton to comment on the reports that have come from Redwater and Calgary.

The discovery of a new oil field of sufficient proportions to warrant flowing wells would put it in the same category as Leduc and Wood.

Accused U.S. Red Seen In Comintern Building

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(BUP)—A deportation hearing witness testified today that he had seen Alexander Stevens, alleged former Soviet espionage chief in the United States, at least four times in the Comintern building in Moscow in 1932.

Stevens, a Czech-born, former deportation on charges of illegal entry and affiliation with a group that was overthrown by the U.S. Government by force.

The witness, Andrew Smith, said he knew Stevens as John Peters. He said he first met "Peters" in 1931 when he saw him in 1931 at the Communist Party Headquarters in New York.

Smith, who said he was a Communist party member from 1919 to 1931, figures in testimony concerning Stevens yesterday at a hearing of a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

At that time, Stevens refused to answer questions concerning two letters, signed "J. Peters," in which Smith figured.

Under questioning today, Smith identified photostat copies of both letters and said he had seen Stevens on each letter were the words "Acting representative of the Communist Party, U.S.A.," and the initials "KCC," which Smith said stood for "Communist International Communist Party."

The letters pertained to Smith's alleged work in the U.S. Communist party to the Communist party to the Soviet Union "with a very high recommendation." One letter said Smith, before his transfer, had obtained all his savings to the party.

Smith testified that he gave the "J. Peters" letters $2,500.

B.C. to Complete South End of Peace River Road

VICTORIA, Aug. 30.—(CP)—The British Columbia government will call for new tenders this fall for completion of the southern end of the John Hart highway in the Peace River district, Works Minister J. A. McCall said today.

About 40 per cent of the highway is to be constructed but has been completed by Campbell Construction Co. which was granted the original contract.

No work had been done this year because the company claimed the road was costing about twice as much as the government price allowed. Original price for the work was $1,200,000.

Earlier this month, William E. Warr, assistant secretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior, estimated the John Hart highway would replace the more easterly road.

Warr, however, group fails to prove their connecting link with the Alaska highway will miss the boat.

The group that completed the connecting road first will get the business.

Big Four Military Aides Meet

Single Currency Plan for Berlin Under Discussion

By Walter Rundle
BERLIN, Aug. 31.—(BUP)—The Big Four military governors of Germany met for an hour today and began preparing plans for a single Soviet-sponsored currency for Berlin.

Agreement to implement the currency plan required that Moscow conferences would mean lifting of the Soviet surface blockade of the German capital, and probably would be the forerunner of agreement on European conferences of all German powers.

ONE HOUR MEETING

The military governors meeting—the first time the four met since Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander, walked out of an allied control council session last March 20—lasted exactly one hour.

The meeting apparently was in the nature of a preliminary exploration of the problems faced by the governors in making effective the decision reached at the Kremlin—that only the Russian-backed eastern half would circulate in Berlin.

Maj.-Gen. George P. Hays, U.S. deputy military governor, said there will be more talk, but that he has no time for an act as yet.

MAJ. MEET TOMORROW

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, told correspondents as he left the meeting that "there may be another session tomorrow."

A lot of considerable optimism was apparent as the first meeting ended, and there appeared slight doubt that the governors would move as rapidly as possible.

Onus Placed On Dominion On Freight Rates

Next move on Canada's rising freight rates question rests with the federal government, according to information given Monday, to delegates from Alberta farm organizations, by Premier Ernest Manning.

The seven provinces, protesting a 21 per cent increase of this year and more recent boost of 15 per cent in competitive freight rates, are still pressing for appointment of a Royal Commission to inquire into the entire freight rate structure of the Dominion, Mr. Manning told the delegation.

New Cretaceous Well Assured

By Cecil Jackson

Reports from Leduc indicate that a Cretaceous well is assured at Central-Coop No. 5. A drill site test on Monday gave a flow of gas estimated at 5,000,000 cubic feet daily. Interval tested was high in the oil bearing sands of the lower Cretaceous. No oil showed with the first test but the gas blow is regarded as ample indication that it is the same formation as that which flowed out of Imperial Leduc No. 80 when that hole was being drilled for petroleum production.

The well is being drilled on the profile Pierre quarter of Central Leduc Co. The property now owned by three wells producing 100,000 cubic feet of gas daily. The well is being drilled for Cretaceous production. Both the current drills are being put down by Saskatchewan Petroleum Co-operative which also drilled the well of three previous wells. Central-Coop No. 5 will be the second Cretaceous producer in the area although the first well drilled for Cretaceous production only three miles to the north, on the Woodhead side of the river, Central No. 3 has been producing a high grade crude for almost two years.

Interval 4,200 to 4,210 feet. Production interval 4,200 to 4,210 feet. Production interval 4,200 to 4,210 feet. Production interval 4,200 to 4,210 feet.

Two-Hour Nightmare

Explosive Ed Morris was talking about "nightmares" and stuff when it was all over. "Jerry Shearn will pitch Tuesday," he said. "There won't be any other changes unless, that is, I have a nightmare tonight." If Manager Morris subsequently spent his sleeping hours locked in fierce combat with errant ground balls or running around in circles under pop-ups that never seemed to come down . . . in other words if he experienced that "nightmare" he talked about, it would be no more than justice asserting itself.

After all close to 4,000 paying customers must have felt they were going through the same thing while watching Purty's put that 9-3 chin on Morris and his hired help.

It was no part of a nightmare, however. For one thing there was too much of 225-pound John Carpenter running through the proceedings to question their reality.

And if this wasn't enough the scoreboard fairly shrieked of Calgary superiority. When the count goes to 9-1 against, even the diehard followers of a team begin to catch on.

Gorbus Fielding Star

Obviously the shoddy, all-round inept performance of the Eskimos sealed their fate more than anything else. It is presently a little difficult to talk about breaks and turning points and the like having much to do with the final result.

However there was a disposition in certain quarters to seize on a couple of incidents in the third inning as being highly fatal.

Bill Price, Eak keystone operator, got all fouled up on a hard hit ground ball, and tossed away a pair of runs. Then in the bottom of the same inning, with Gene Perali already across with the first Eak runner and Price and Jack McGill in scoring position, Purty's Glen Gorbus came up with a great play to retire the side.

It was Ralph Morgan who took off on Carpenter to lash a line drive 10 feet to the left of third-sacker Gorbus. The "teen-aged infiltrator, who is slated to lead a Brooklyn Dodger camp next spring, never halted an eye as he lunged and gathered in the drive.

This was the fielding highlight. Oddly enough Gorbus took away to a bad start when he allowed a pop fly to slide through his hands in the first inning for the lone Purty error of the night.

Off this slow start the strong-armed boy from Vulcan came with a rush in the field and also lay on the lumber for three hits in five trips.

The Season's 'Big-House'

Carpenter's Sunday pitch was a slow slobber curve which he kept dancing off the corners of the plate. Now and then he threw hard, particularly with men in scoring position.

But essentially it was his "deuce" which kept the spiritless Eskis Wilson's Purtyans now are in a favored spot. For one thing their decisive night game, it is certain that should Eaks come to life again to snatch a triumph, or even two, in the next couple of nights, the series must wind up at Buffalo Stadium.

Heaven forbid that the end should come at Renfrew Park. It was unfortunate, in a way, that the season's largest week-day crowd was on hand to see Eaks so far below form. On the other hand if the park seemed somewhat better lit than usual it might have been because of the triple-placed gleam in the eyes of Messrs. Ducey and Beatty.

The shoe horn was in use from the early innings on, in an attempt to squeeze in the overflow gathering. In fact Ducey was so overawed by it all that he forgot to bring the hot-dogs around to the press box until nearly too late.

Speaking of that press box. Aw heck, why bring up the Black Hole of Calcutta at such a time as this!

Alberta Open Draws Top Edmonton Stars

A number of Edmonton's leading golfers will journey to Calgary at the week-end for the Alberta open championship to a $1,500 and more pot of gold and prizes.

They'll display their wares on the 18-hole, 3,600-yard, rolling, but playfully treacherous, Calgary Golf and Country Club. The event will get under way with 18 holes on Saturday. There'll be another 18 holes on Sunday and 36 on Monday.

Leading the Edmonton contingent will be Henry Martell, who mauls par figures with scores of 69 and 68 in the Lake exhibition series a week ago. Henry is a former champion, but he will bump into a lot of tough opposition.

Although they have not yet announced their intentions, the Olynyk brothers, Pete and Alex, will likely make the trip, and they, too, prove the pressure finally became too much for Byron Nelson a few years back, and he wisely retired while he still had some semblance of a stomach left. Like Hogan, Nelson was a non-drinker, and so never was able to relax even for a few hours of an evening while an event was in progress.

It is no great wonder that the money golfers, as a class, are fair-

YOU'RE NOT SEEING DOUBLE. . . It's Bart Shotton. Brooklyn manager and he's giving the rejuvenated Dodgers signs from the Ebbets' Field dugout. The signs are apparently working, as Brooks are now atop the National League heap. You get Shotton "twice" in this one because of an adroit paste-up job by a NEA artist.

NS Legion Ousts Luckless Airmen

By Bert Greer

When the smoke of battle clears and the players relax in their dressing rooms after a close, strenuous game of soccer or hockey, the losing side can generally see where they passed up a lot of golden opportunities—perhaps enough to win.

That was the case Monday night when the RAF dropped a 2-1 decision to North Side Legion in a Dragons Cup match at Clarke Stadium. The Airmen just couldn't seem to capitalize on their chances.

After trailing 2-0 at half time and reducing the margin to 2-1 early in the second half, the Airmen chucked away at least three good chances to beat George Ross between the Legion posts.

THREE CHANCES

North Side will now meet Airmen in the second round of the Wednesday night at Clarke Stadium.

Legion went ahead at 20 minutes of play with Russell forcing in a cross from Bob Scott and then George Burton made good use of Bobby Graham's close-in pass.

Shortly after resumption of play Bill French went alone to beat Ross, who is substituting for Bill Neale, injured in Calgary.

Inspired by this success, the Airmen held a slight edge in territorial play, but couldn't dent Neale's Citadel again.

Graham gave the Legion a little clearance at the 35-minute mark when he was Bobby on the net.

It was a well played game throughout, with neither team dominating the play. Scott Russell received a leg injury in a collision near the end of the game.

Edmonton Country Club, Bud Loftus, who played a seven-under-par 65 at the Municipal in the club championship that at the Municipal last Sunday, Burns, Martell, runner-up in the city amateur, and Lochington Fred Campbell, High-lands star.

Pat Fletcher, accurate-shooter, led Saturday's course in par 71, the other day.

Amos, a top Edmonton amateur who intends to launch an assault on the Calgary course is Vern Moberg, city amateur champion who was top amateur last year when the event was held at the lovely drinkers. Most of them, even those abstainers when they begin the punishing food and meat trail, sooner or later embrace the host to some extent in an effort to ease the terrible pressure.

His successes of Nelson and Hogan over the last 10 years prove, of course, that alcohol is no stimulant to golfing greatness. In the off years, many a first prize has been pocketed in the same period by a guest who helped out the town to let the previous night.

A glance at Hogan's record this summer might offer some idea of what led up to his reported exhibition of bad manners at Denver. That is, his record shows that he's a constant strain the little slinger has been under.

His victory at Denver was his sixth in succession. In 12 events on the summer circuit, he has finished lower than fourth but once. He won the classic double—the open and PGA championships.

In 63 rounds he has compiled the amazing average of 69.57 strokes. So this observer, for one, feels inclined to give the mighty mite a break and to suggest that the Denver feat do the same the next time they are him. Ben isn't a bad fellow.

Rampaging Dodgers Take 2 from Cards

'Spec' Shea Hurls One-Hitter At Tigers; Paige Triumphs

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. — (CP) — The rampaging Brooklyn Dodgers ran their winning streak to seven games Monday as they swept both ends of National League doubleheader from St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5 and 6-1.

The double triumph, coupled with Boston's defeat by Pittsburgh, stretched Brooklyn's lead over the second-place Braves from a few percentage points to 1½ games.

Brooklyn won the first game at St. Louis the hard way. Little Murry Dickson had the Dodgers tamed, 5-2, going into the ninth when he blew up. Off Dickson and reliever Ted Wilks, the Brook collected three singles, a double, a walk and an outfield fly for four runs and the ball game.

With the exception of the second inning when the Cards scored their lone run, lefty Hating was in complete charge in the nightcap. He limited the Red Birds to five hits as he posted his 11th victory.

DIXIE WALKER STARS
Meanwhile, a pair of former Brooklyn players kept Pittsburgh Pirates in the thick of the pennant fight as the stalling buzz broke their third straight from Boston Braves, 2-1.

Dieke Walker provided all the batting punch with a two-run homer in the first inning while veteran Frankie Ostermeier scattered nine Boston hits in the second.

The victory was Pittsburgh's 18th in the last 26 games.

In the American League, the runner-up New York Yankees sliced the lead of the idle Boston Red Sox to one game as Frank (Spec) Shea pitched the Yankees to a 3-0 net triumph over Detroit Tigers.

The Yanks scored all their runs in the first inning off Hal Newhouser. Joe DiMaggio singled in one run and Yogi Berra the other.

Newhouser singled for the lone hit in the third inning. The only other Detroitier to get on base was Hook Evers who walked in the second. Neither Newhouser nor Evers got past first base as Shea, turning in his best game in four years, scored his seventh victory against 10 losses.

MEET POSTPONED
The Federation of Community Leagues' meeting of sports representatives, scheduled for Monday night, was postponed until Sept. 7 at the USO Building at 8 p.m.

FAVORITES COME THROUGH IN AMATEUR

Defender Skee Riegel 'Shaken' in U.S. Golf

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 31. — (AP) — Defending Champion Robert (Skee) Riegel of Monterey Park, Calif., faced defeat at the hands of a substitute weekend player called on by his putter in the clutch Monday to lead favorites into the second round of the United States amateur golf tournament.

One down at the end of 12 rounds, the titlist rallied to score a one-up victory over Richard Ewert of Santa Ana, Calif., a 28-year-old jeweler competing in his first big meet.

Ewert was a last-minute replacement for Robert Gardner of Los Angeles, who was ill.

The score driven into the champion by the dumpy little business man electrified an opening day session that had lapsed into dullness after Frank Stranahan's 4 and 3 early morning triumph over Frank Straker.

The list of United States and British champions in the field was kept intact, although the ranks received some battering.

Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., who won the title in 1939 and 1941, was one down at the turn in his match with James W. Key, 17-year-old southern tournament medalist from Columbus, Ga. However, Ward steadied his game on the back nine to win 2 and 1.

Ted Bishop, of Dedham, Mass., the 1946 winner, was carried to the 17th hole by Edmund Grove, Jr. of Rocky Mount, N.C., before winning 2 and 1.

Lloydminster Splits Games With Mortons

LLOYDMINSTER, Aug. 31. — Ed Morton's team split the last two games of the 1948-49 season. Lloydminster won the first game 6-2 and Mortons missed 4-3 in the nightcap.

In the first match Mortons scored two runs in the first inning and were throttled thereafter. Davis clouted a two-run homer as Flyers tied the game in the fifth. Four runs off two walks, a single, and a triple an inning later wrapped up, pre-empting the Lloydminster bats.

Lloydminster errors in crucial spots saved the Flyers from an Edmonton triumph in the second frame. Jay Dwyer collected a home run in the fourth inning for the Flyers.

Titus DeKoppard and Marle Mon-Person handled pitching chores for the visitors while Doreen St. Mary and Doris Ashe hustled for Lloydminster.

ESKS ANXIOUS TO MAKE AMENDS
Eskimos, more than anxious to make amends for Monday's 9-3 wallowing at the hands of Calgary Purty's swing back into the playoffs, will meet either scrubbies Tony Maze or Joe Kank, the fast-ball, who will oppose Seaman on the mound.

Purty led the best-of-seven series by two games to one.

TOURNEY GOLF TAKES ITS TOLL ON THE TUMMY

Hogan Isn't a Bad Fellow But Nerves Probably Frayed

BY GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Aug. 31. — (AP) — The bad press this time around isn't helping Hogan's case in winning the Denver open since it is time again that he takes himself a long vacation from golf and permits his frayed nerves to relax.

Though Ben always has been a quiet, unassuming fellow, he is not ordinarily rude to people. I have seen his sign autograph books until he must have watered every autograph not in the world had been drained.

What might not be generally realized is that present-day sources of golf, as played week after week by Hogan and his fellow pros, is about the loofest sports torture ever devised. It is a wonder that he still plays. It is a wonder that he still has some semblance of a stomach left. Like Hogan, Nelson was a non-drinker, and so never was able to relax even for a few hours of an evening while an event was in progress.

It is no great wonder that the money golfers, as a class, are fair-

Red Deer Curlers To Improve Rink
RED DEER, Aug. 31.—Red Deer curlers are already starting to think about the coming season, prompted possibly by recent cold nights. On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 1, members of the Red Deer Curling Club will meet at the rink to do some work in preparation for the winter.

The club has had a good deal of trouble in past years with ice making and a late start. Wednesday's work will be to remove some of the dirt in the rink level the ground, place some slides on it and roll the whole area.

Other plans include sheeling and painting of the inside walls and repairing of the south side of the curling rink. Roll and improvements have been made in the building in recent years.

Planning for next winter is also being considered and the executive has taken heed of a suggestion put forward at the last annual meeting and will draw up a budget for the season. Treasurer Fred Strain and a committee of President J. F. Campbell, Alf Strain and Marshall Lee are working on the budget.

FAIRVIEW

When the railroad by-passed the little settlement of Watchole in 1928, the residents of that community acted with a forthrightness that is applicable to all people of the Peace River country. They simply moved their homes and businesses four miles to the new location and rechristened their town 'Fairview'. And a fair view it has been to its people, for their industry and enterprise has caused their growth and continued their co-operative spirit.

Today, Fairview is a thriving village of some 800 people; serving a rich farming country where a total crop income is unknown and where the abundant crops grow in the deep clay loam soil which is drought-resistant and free from gravel and muck.

Situated thus in one of the finest farming areas in all the vast Peace River country, the many line businesses and community enterprises are a triumph to the progressive spirit of Fairview people. Recently, civic-minded residents formed what is probably the only co-operative agency in Canada and are developing on a site close to the village. Serving the people are many fine businesses, churches, schools and a district hospital. The residents of Fairview are right in planning a future in one of the most progressive centres in the Peace River area.

PEACE RIVER

Three hundred and fifty miles from Edmonton on the Northern Alberta Railway is the town of Peace River, situated on the banks of the river from which it received its name. The town, with a population of 1,500, is another of the northern supply centres, serving a large area through its accessibility. The Peace River itself is navigable for 1,000 miles to the town's airport is a regular point of call for the large transport planes serving the mining fields in the far north, and it is a terminal for the new highway to Great Slave Lake. When this road is completed, the whole north country will be served from Peace River.

In addition to its growth from transportation, Peace River is hub of a rich farming district from which millions of bushels of wheat and other crops are shipped yearly. Matching the grain shipments is the export of livestock, the two combining to augment the wealth of this northern Alberta district.

The town of Peace River, which has the same name as this whole northern district, can be compared to it, with both the settlement and the surrounding country typifying the progressive spirit of the north. Peace River country extends roughly from Lesser Slave Lake, about 200 miles north of Edmonton, to Peace River town and west to the British Columbia boundary and thence north to the Fort Vermilion district, taking in an area of 20,000 square miles populated by between 80,000 and 100,000 people.

Truly, the future of the north is assured, and it is also assured that as progress pushes civilization still further north, the people of the Peace River country will match that progress.

POLICE CLAMP DOWN ON BOYS

Ten North Edmonton boys were apprehended and severely warned by city police Monday for using slingshots within the city limits.

Police action followed the complaints of numerous North Edmonton residents recently that youths were endangering property with their catapults. Constable D. R. McLaughlin, who located and warned the boys, also seized several of the slingshots.

Use of catapults and the throwing of stones or snowballs is forbidden under city by-law 72.

Victorians Seek End Of Wagon Road

VICTORIA, Aug. 31.—(CP)—Victorians delved back into history today to prove its contention that British Columbia was promised a "wagon road" from Victoria to the sea on entering Confederation, and the province has never been fulfilled.

The move is part of a campaign by Western provinces to obtain completion of the Trans-Canada Highway.

A brief, outlining the historical background, was presented to city council today by city solicitor A. J. Patton.

Council ordered it sent to members of the provincial cabinet and the federal government, and to the Trans-Canada Association at Edmonton.

Summarizing his findings, Mr. Patton said that the Dominion was the first to suggest the road; that both B.C. and the Dominion agreed to accept Lord Carnarvon's award; and that in 1948 it has not yet been constructed.

Speed of the journey, which covered nearly a third of the distance around the world and back in the three-week time, left the boys somewhat confused on their impressions.

Top spot on the trip for Jimmy Crooks was the opportunity to inspect the "Mistral IV," Britain's new jet-propelled fighter, and to get expert instruction on the intricacies of jet engines.

Another highlight of the trip in his mind was the contrasting visit to two warships in Portsmouth—once a modern aircraft carrier, the Illustrator, and the other Nelson's flagship, the Victory.

The boys were given tours of the historic spots in all the principal cities of England and Scotland, and were lectured by Lord Mayors and all that sort of thing. Towards the end of the trip, in the Old Country, the boys were given "free time" to do as they pleased.

HOME AGAIN after travelling a third of the way around world and back are two Alberta Air Cadets, WO2 David Ives, Red Deer and Ptl-Sgt. Jimmy Crooks, High River. The pair were part of a contingent of Canadian Cadets who visited England for three weeks and returned to Edmonton airport Monday.

Alberta Air Cadets Back From World Tour

A three weeks' tour, which included most of Canada, Newfoundland, Iceland, Scotland and England, ended at Edmonton airport Monday for two Alberta Air Cadets.

They are Cadet Flight Sergeant Jimmy Woods, High River, and Cadet Warrant Officer David Ives, of Red Deer.

The pair were Alberta representatives on an RCAF-sponsored tour, which took cadets from each province in Canada, selected on the basis of their achievements in cadet training.

At the same time, a group of British air cadets toured Canada under the auspices of the RCAF. With the Alberta boys who arrived in Edmonton Monday evening were the remainder of the contingent, all from the west coast, who will continue their air journey home towards Wednesday.

Speed of the journey, which covered nearly a third of the distance around the world and back in the three-week time, left the boys somewhat confused on their impressions.

Safety Council Plans Drive For Members

Edmonton's safety council launched plans for its two week recruiting campaign, an annual meeting held at the AMA camp grounds, Monday night.

A demonstration of a brake-reaction-lining device was shown by WO2 Bob Marshall, RCAF.

The device, known as the "shot test," fires a chalk mark from a detonator under the car. When the detonator is fired, driver of the car applies his brakes.

A second piece of chalk is fired when the driver applies his brakes and the reaction time between the two chalk marks is measured.

Later this month a public contest will be held to estimate reaction times in the test as demonstrated.

President of the council, Brig. J. C. Jefferson, CBE, DSO, ED, presided at Monday's meeting.

Part-time appointments in the faculty of medicine were: Dr. H. B. Rodman, Dr. P. R. Taylor, Dr. S. S. Spenser, Dr. H. E. Duggan, Dr. T. M. H. IN ALBERTA TOO Canada's Future Lies North, MacKinnon Says

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—(CP)—A 7,000-mile air journey has convinced resource minister MacKinnon that the route of Canada's advance lies north.

The resource minister returned during the week-end from a three-week tour of Alberta and the North West Territories, "deeply impressed" with the tremendous strides the Dominion has made in the development of mineral resources.

"The first time I went to Yellowknife," he said in an interview, "it was a desolate, barren area. Nothing was developed and that is only ten years ago."

"Today, the face of the North West Territories has changed. There are three gold mines in Yellowknife. Soon, I believe, the North West Territories will equal Ontario and Quebec in the amount of mineral production."

At one of the three gold mines (Giant Yellowknife), Mr. MacKinnon helped pour the first gold brick the company has produced.

The North West Territories has two other significant events will take place," he continued. "One will be the flow of hydro-electric power from the Snare River, powered by the N.W.T. and the other will be the completion of the Grinshaw-Hay River road on the border of Alberta and the Territories."

"On these two projects alone the government is spending more than $7,000,000."

Salvation Army Head Sees Need for Religious Revival

Need for world revival of religion was stressed by Commissioner Charles Baugh, Salvation Army head for Canada, here Monday.

Commissioner Baugh, territorial commander for Canada, Newfoundland and Bermuda, was in Edmonton on a one-day inspection tour, and left by air for Vancouver today.

Real religion must be a vital part of the daily lives of Canadians, the Commissioner claimed. He pointed out the need for being more than "nominal" Christians.

Christianity must be more than going to church on Sunday and a code of ethics, Commissioner Baugh said.

To reviewing social service work of the Salvation Army, Commissioner Baugh pointed out the need for increasing public support in the face of expanding commitments.

"The Salvation Army carries out an extensive social service program because of public confidence in the organization," he said.

A staff of 1,500 full-time officers, and many thousands of lay-workers, throughout Canada, are working to keep "army" social services up to date.

By day the city's green, well-wooded, garden drive many visitors. By the art galleries, a flourish, showing the festival device of a violin, a trumpet and a tragic mask framed by a laurel wreath. The hours are told against an outdoor film, interlarded with the names of the world's greatest composers.

Visitors apparently are undaunted by the uncertain weather. A Chinese authority on dramatic art said the climate was like that of the tropics. West Indians and Africans do not seem bothered by it while those from the Antipodes say they have found a second home.

Many Europeans say that but for the rugged Scottish voices they hear on the streets they might be in their own capitals. The festival makes Edinburgh, they say, in many respects, like a continental city.
